Her other brothers had runaway with the crowd. But unfortunately, the tsunami came just right behind this 3 family member. This giant water flung down Cha-cha from the rest of the family. All of the sudden, everything went dark. Cha-cha couldn't remember a thing.

It was 2 days after the amputation, Cha-cha started to recognize her father who was sitting next to her since a day before. Mr.Bachtiar, Delisa father, who was in Jakarta when the disaster happened, was praying all day long that his only daughter could wake and recognize him after the amputation. He was in delight that after searching for his family in hospitals, camps, that he could find his youngest daughter.

After few days in Kesdam hospital, Delisa met The Handicap International who was searching for amputees. Then Delisa agreed to be reffered to Medan for rehabilitation and artificial limb fitting.

Story behind the tsunami :

Harlina, a mother of three children had been trying to flee the onrushing wall of water. They packed onto the family motorbike but the killer wave overtook them. They tried to run, but because it was so crowded the motorbike was stuck in middle of the crowd. Harlina looked back and she saw water stood so high at her back. Then the water hit the unfortunate family. She lost her three children from her arms.

Sinking in the huge waves, Harlina reached anything she could hold while at the same time she was crashed by zinc roof, wood logs, door, tree, but she tried all her best to be on the surface of water. After fighting to such condition, at last she could reach and hold on to a log, and then luckily saved by her brother who stuck on the roof of a house.

When the water receded, the mother of three young children realize that she lost her children and husband. All she has now are only her younger brother and parents, along with pain on the leg. Then Harlina asked for her leg to be amputated. Her leg was removed by Australian army medics, Dr.Lee Choi Chen. The French counsellors worked with Australian nurses to help her learn to use crutches and give her physiotherapy.
